Featured Whitepaper: 'Stay Secure After Microsoft Windows Server 2003 Reaches End of Life'

CIPS via IT World Canada

In July 2015, Microsoft stopped supporting Windows Server 2003. The end of support will create serious security issues, especially if you are not fully migrated to a new platform. Hackers know this and will be targeting new exploits at the significant number of Windows Server 2003 servers still in use.
