AMD VP Roy Taylor talks about Windows 10, virtual reality, security, and the future

IT World Canada

Windows 10 is in the news continually with impressive features like Cortana as your personal digital assistant founded on deep, machine learning where computers mimic the brain's neural networks, which is a testimony of the rapid progression in AI. We see this as an idea in the movie Her, but it is increasingly becoming a reality.

CIPS AB Edmonton March 5 Dinner: 'The Internet of Things'

CIPS

There are currently 1.5 devices for every human being on the planet. All over the world, sensors, smart objects, and other devices are connecting through the reach and power of the Internet. And they're dynamically generating, analyzing, and communicating intelligence to increase operational efficiency, power new business models, and improve quality of life.

The #LeftShark syndrome CIOs must slay

IT World Canada

Apart from her agent and possibly her entourage, there probably aren't a lot of people who look at Katy Perry and say, "That's a business!" But for a moment, I'm asking CIOs to treat the pop singer as a sort of metaphor for their corporate stakeholders.

Call for your insights! Please participate in the annual CanadianCIO Census

CIPS via IT World Canada

Completion will take approximately 10 minutes of your time. In return, you will receive a complimentary copy of the full report providing you with insights into what CIOs perceive as their most pressing challenges and most promising opportunities. The report will also answer questions on current trends such as how companies are dealing with cloud, mobility, the Internet of Things, and whether IT budgets are growing or shrinking.

CIPS PEI 2015 Curling Event: March 6

CIPS

The 2015 CIPS PEI Curling Event will be held on Thursday, March 6. As with previous years, this is a "for fun" event and no previous curling experience is required to participate. Curling is a great social event for networking since teams play two (4 end) games against other teams — not to mention the camaraderie fostered with fellow co-workers and teammates!
