CIPS National 2014-2015 Annual Report

CIPS

Dear CIPS Members,

This year saw the completion of the CIPS National office becoming a virtual office, which has resulted in the reduction of operational costs. Many thanks to the Transition Committee and CIPS staff for all their hard work to see us through the changes that happened behind the scenes, with no disruption to service delivery. READ MORE

Solving big data problems on an open source platform depends on these 3 business challenges

IT World Canada

As Steve Holder, national practice lead for analytics for SAS Canada explains the points on his "open source integration" slide, he notes he selected a starry background after being inspired by the lunar eclipse event. For many in Toronto, the eclipse was obscured by an impenetrable layer of cloud. READ MORE

Chat with Josh Hong on innovation, start-ups, investing, leadership, agility

IT World Canada

In an upcoming series of articles I will be sharing insights from 2000 pages of extensive research and interviews for my upcoming keynote on mega-trends at the IFIP World Computer Congress Industry Prospects Conference. One major research lesson is that more than fifty percent of success is linked to agility, taking on the attributes and thinking of innovators and investors, using a start-up mentality/process, and learning from open people networks with diversity of thinking. READ MORE

ARMA Saskatchewan 2015 Conference

CIPS

In order to be successful, every organization needs RIM and IT to share the same interest for the corporate information they are tasked with managing and protecting. Information Governance is the rule book, that each Records Management professional looks to in order to do that. READ MORE

CIPS needs your input: 'Creating your ideal technology professional organization: Your input shaping the future of CIPS'

CIPS

CIPS, Canada's Association of I.T. Professionals, has embarked on a strategic initiative to chart the future of the organization and its place within the information, technology, and communications (ICT) profession in Canada. The process begins with asking for the voice of stakeholders through a short online survey. READ MORE
